SAYING GOODBYE TO GREAT FRIENDS

This year, Inner-City Scholarship Fund lost four great champions of Catholic education: His Eminence, Edward Cardinal Egan, James B. "Jimmy" Lee, Jr., Ann Mara, and Francis C. "Frank" Rooney, Jr. Throughout their lives, these four outstanding individuals made Catholic education a viable option for thousands of underprivileged children in New York City.

On March 10th, over 2,500 guests, including Governor Andrew Cuomo and Mayor Bill de Blasio, gathered at St. Patrick's Cathedral to pay their respects to Edward Cardinal Egan. During his tenure as Archbishop of New York and Chairman of Inner-City Scholarship Fund, over $100 million in scholarships were awarded to underprivileged children to attend Catholic school in the Archdiocese of New York. His Eminence was a firm believer that all children should have access to a quality education and fought passionately for them throughout his episcopal career.

Known as "The First Lady of Football," New York Giants owner Ann Mara passed away at the age of 85. A funeral mass was held at St. Ignatius Loyola Church, the same church where she was baptized and both met and married her late husband, Wellington Mara. Ann played a significant role in providing scholarship support for children to attend Catholic school. Her generosity toward

Dear Friends,

As fall approaches, grateful students reflect on the many lessons that have marked their growth over the past year and look forward to the new challenges ahead. At Inner-City, we are taking this time to remember four champions of education: His Eminence, Edward Cardinal Egan, James B. “Jimmy” Lee, Jr., Ann Mara, and Francis C. “Frank” Rooney, Jr. Through their commitment to Catholic schools, they have taught us all a lesson in kindness, deliberation and effecting change.

For over 43 years, Inner-City Scholarship Fund and its donors have worked together to provide underprivileged children with the enormous opportunity to attend Catholic school. Their enrollment is the driving force that will break the cycle of poverty—and the key that will open up countless doors in their futures. We, like the students at Inner-City supported schools, have a lot to be grateful for.

- Over 7,000 students receive a scholarship to attend Catholic school
- 98% of high school seniors graduate
- 96% of graduates pursue higher education

Please read on for a glimpse into the changing lives of the students and families at Inner-City supported schools. Their stories, along with our featured Class of 2015 graduates, demonstrate the impact of our mission far better than I can explain. Thank you for your support—it is the reason why so many students are able to make their dreams a reality.

Sincerely,

Susan George

FRIENDS OF INNER-CITY RAISE OVER $900,000

Timothy Cardinal Dolan with Gala Chairs Katherine and John Doyle

On Tuesday, May 12th, supporters of Inner-City Scholarship Fund raised over $900,000 at the 39th Annual FRIENDS Gala at Cipriani 42nd Street in Manhattan. 425 guests attended the event to help provide tuition assistance for low-income students attending inner-city Catholic schools within the Archdiocese of New York.

His Eminence, Timothy Michael Cardinal Dolan, Archbishop of New York, and Gala Chairs, Katherine and John Doyle of Rye, NY attended the event where Fox 5 news anchor Dari Alexander served as the Master of Ceremonies.

"Providing the children of New York a quality education is not only important for the students themselves, but for the future of our city," said Susan George, Executive Director of Inner-City. "Today's students are our future leaders and it is wonderful to bring together so many champions of education to ensure that the gift of an excellent Catholic school education continues to be an option for students of all faiths both today and in the future."

Scholarship recipient Joralysa Conley, a senior at Notre Dame School of Manhattan, who will attend Barnard College in the fall, followed these remarks with a moving speech. She emphasized the importance of education and how her scholarship changed her life by allowing her to overcome traumatic family experiences.

In addition to dinner and dancing, guests enjoyed a performance by choirs from St. Raymond Academy for Girls and St. Raymond High School for Boys.

Next up on our event calendar, Inner-City will host the 26th Annual Lawyers Luncheon on Thursday, November 5, 2015 and the 39th Annual Award Dinner on Tuesday, December 14, 2015. Please Save the Dates.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS COMMITTEE RAISES OVER $414,000

Nearly 200 guests, including NBA Hall of Famer Chris Mullen, joined His Eminence Timothy Cardinal Dolan on Tuesday, June 2nd for the Capital Improvements Committee (formerly Project YESS) annual reception at Top of the Rock Observation Deck at Rockefeller Center. The event provided more than just stunning views, as over $414,000 was raised through an extensive silent auction that included VIP tickets to the Good Morning America Concert Series, New York Giants tickets, and a VIP package to attend the world famous Rockefeller Center Christmas Tree lighting ceremony.

Proceeds from the event will help St. Ann School, St. Ignatius School and Corpus Christi School replace broken doors and fix a communications system that will make their students safer and create an environment more conducive for learning.

Improvements Leadership Committee is comprised of a dedicated group of business leaders who volunteer their time to ensure Catholic schools remain safe havens for inner-city students. Since its inception, the committee has granted over $5.1 million to fund 280 projects providing necessary repairs and renovations that help increase enrollment and keep students safe.

MEET A STUDENT ON OUR WAIT-LIST

Andres, a 6th grade student at St. Anselm School

Andres is a 6th grader at St. Anselm School. He lives in the Bronx with his older brother and his parents, who support the family on an annual income of $21,083. Andres is a first honors student whose favorite subject is history. He is extremely active at his school and belongs to the choir, science club, and band.

When he's not in school, Andres plays clarinet as a member of the New York Honor Band ensemble. He also volunteers at a local soup kitchen and lends a helping hand to his elderly neighbor. During his spare time, Andres also loves to play basketball and read.

His father worked at a restaurant in the Bronx for 35 years, but since a fire destroyed the restaurant he has struggled to support the family.

Andres is currently on the wait-list to receive an Inner-City scholarship. Won't you help by becoming his sponsor?

Please contact Kelvin Gentles at Gentles@innercitynyc.org to learn how you can Be A Student's Friend by sponsoring a portion of Andres' tuition.

SPONSORS AND STUDENTS MEET AT GRADUATION RECEPTION

On Tuesday, May 5th, 35 Inner-City supported students from the 2015 graduation class joined their sponsors in Dillon Hall at the Archdiocese of New York for the annual Be A Student's Friend graduation reception. For many of the sponsors and students in attendance, the reception marked the first time they were meeting each other. It provided an opportunity for students to share their accomplishments and for sponsors to have a firsthand look at the impact a Catholic education had on their students.

Inner-City scholarship recipient Gerickson Lopez, a senior at Cardinal Hayes High School, spoke on behalf of the graduating class. Gerickson is valedictorian of his class and received four full scholarship offers from prestigious colleges, including Cornell University, where he will be attending school in the fall. His sponsors, Susan and Edward Reilly also attended the event. Gerickson said "I had never met my sponsors until today, but I know they believed in me wholeheartedly. They aided me in making my dream a reality. Without Mr.

and Mrs. Reilly, I don't know if I would be where I am today."

Inner-City Executive Director Susan George closed the event by presenting the longest sponsor award to Sabina Wu, who sponsored her student Francheska Romero for 10 years since she was in 2nd grade.

To learn more about Inner-City's sponsorship program, please contact Kelvin Gentles at Gentles@innercitynyc.org.

YOUNG VOLUNTEERS OFFER LIFE-CHANGING OPPORTUNITIES

On April 10, 2015, nearly 200 young professionals enjoyed an open bar and buffet dinner at the Inner-City Scholarship Fund Junior Committee's annual Spring Soiree at Mutual of America's 34th floor lounge overlooking Park Avenue. With the help of a silent auction and raffle tickets, close to $20,000 was raised to support volunteer enrichment programs and scholarships for Inner-City students.

The Junior Committee is comprised of young professionals who volunteer their time to provide over 5,000 underprivileged students with access to a number of programs, including tutoring, basketball, field trips and holiday parties. In addition, the Committee hosts several social events throughout the year to give its volunteers an opportunity to network with other young professionals.

Junior Committee volunteers take 6th graders from Corpus Christi School to the American Museum of Natural History

The Juniors provide hands-on experiences to students who would otherwise lack the opportunities to receive invaluable experiences outside of the classroom and beyond their neighborhoods.

For more information about how to get involved with the Junior Committee, please contact Michael Goldberg at Goldberg@innercitynyc.org.

INNER-CITY STUDENTS RECEIVE REAL WORLD EXPERIENCE

High school juniors participate in job-readiness workshops through the Job Opportunities Program

On Saturday, May 16th, volunteers and Inner-City supported students completed the last of this semester's six Job Opportunities Program workshops. During each session, volunteers help guide students through a job-readiness curriculum that includes lessons in resume writing, email and Facebook etiquette, time and money management and mock interviews. At the conclusion of the workshops, students are placed in paid internships at premier corporations and organizations throughout New York City.

Bill Creamer, a sponsor of the Job Opportunities Program and manager at Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP says, "The interns we get from the Job Opportunities Program are always highly motivated and of the highest quality overall. I look forward to summers knowing that I'll have some quality interns to work with on our more interesting projects."

Each year, 130 high school juniors participate in the program and 55 companies and non-profits in New York City provide paid summer internships. 100% of program participants graduate high school and pursue higher education.

For more information about the Job Opportunities Program, please contact Christine Desposito at Desposito@innercitynyc.org.

pastoral, educational and charitable endeavors touched so many lives and her legacy will live on for generations to come.

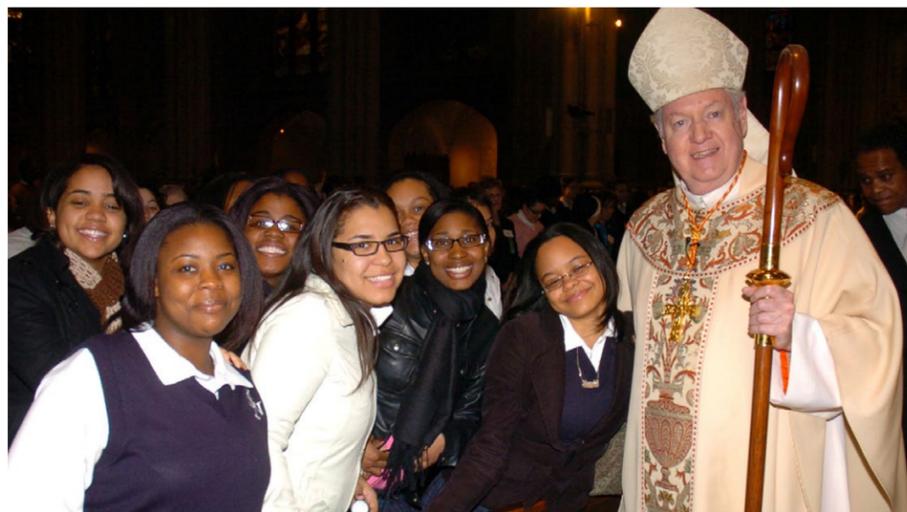

Frank Rooney was a business giant and philanthropic leader. He served as Chief Executive Officer of the Melville Corporation, where he transformed a shoe company into a retail behemoth embracing CVS, Thom McAn and Marshall's. As a founding trustee of Inner-City Scholarship Fund, he left a legacy as part of the first generation of business leaders led by His Eminence, Terrence Cardinal Cooke to help preserve Catholic schools in New York City's inner-city neighborhoods. Frank was a treasured member of the Inner-City family for more than three decades and helped thousands of low income children receive a Catholic education.

Jimmy Lee, the Vice Chairman of JP Morgan Chase & Co and head of its Investment Bank was more than just an industry legend. As a former Inner-City trustee, Jimmy founded the organization's Corporate Committee, which has engaged countless companies in New York City to raise millions of dollars. He and his wife Beth also served as chairs of Inner-City's annual Gala in 2010 and he was co-chair of the 2014 Award Dinner, which raised an event record $2.3 million. Inner-City and JP Morgan established a $1 million scholarship endowment called the "Jimmy Lee Fund," which continues to build on donations provided by Jimmy's friends, family and colleagues after his death. To learn more about this endowment please visit www.jimmyleefund.org.

Inner-City Scholarship Fund offers its deepest condolences to the Egan, Lee, Mara and Rooney families as we remember and celebrate their lives that had a tremendous impact on inner-city students and the Catholic schools they attended.

To make a gift in memory of Edward Cardinal Egan, Jimmy Lee, Ann Mara, or Frank Rooney, please call 212-753-8583 or visit InnerCityScholarshipFund.org/donate.

A GLANCE AT A SPONSORSHIP

Inner-City donor Eileen Solomon recently shared the story of Talaysia Griffin, a sixth-grader she sponsors at Mount Carmel - Holy Rosary. Eileen became involved in the scholarship program in 2009 at the insistence of a friend who is also a sponsor. A graduate of public school herself, Eileen believes in the value of a Catholic education. Through Inner-City, she was matched with Talaysia.

Now, Eileen visits Mount Carmel up to four times a year and enjoys attending Talaysia's school concerts. Determined to see Talaysia succeed, she encourages her to work hard and notes her many academic accomplishments. Eileen reports that Talaysia has become a confident student who loves reading, writing, and art. Talaysia even sends her the book reviews that she writes as a hobby.

This sponsorship experience has been one filled with lessons for both sponsor and student. For Eileen, it has been an opportunity to learn about the Catholic school system in the Archdiocese of New York. For Talaysia, it has been the motivation behind scholastic achievement and personal growth. These mutually positive outcomes serve as a testament to Catholic schools and their potential to change lives in the classroom and beyond.
